Pay Gap Report 2025

1. About Torus

Torus is an ambitious and established housing group with deep roots in Liverpool, St Helens, and Warrington - and a total footprint that encompasses 11 Local Authority areas.

One of the North West's largest landlords, Torus manages 40,000 homes and serves 75,000 customers. The Group mission of 'growing stronger communities' drives four entities to work together and deliver homes and services for those who need them most.

The landlord function sits at the heart of Torus and works to provide quality affordable homes and housing services that support people to live securely and independently.

The development company, Torus Developments, has a target to build 1,000 new homes a year - with a strong focus on affordable homes for rent and homeownership.

The commercial arm, HMS, is an award-winning building and maintenance contractor. Profits generated are used to fund initiatives that make a positive difference to communities and the lives of the people who live in them.

Torus' charitable arm, Torus Foundation, invests profits generated by Torus Developments and HMS into meaningful community projects that improve wellbeing, skills, and quality of life, to break down barriers and unlock potential.

The true value of the Torus model is unlocked when all four entities work together to make communities and places better.

2. Pay gap reporting

At Torus Group we are committed to fostering an inclusive and equitable workplace where everyone has the opportunity to thrive. Although there are currently no mandatory reporting requirements for ethnicity and disability pay gaps in the UK, we believe transparency is a vital step toward meaningful change. That's why we have chosen to voluntarily disclose our ethnicity and disability pay gaps.

It is anticipated that mandatory reporting on these pay gaps may be introduced in 2027, although this has not yet been confirmed. Government consultation suggests any future regulations will likely follow the framework currently in place for gender pay gap reporting. However, we await further detail on the specific requirements and methodology.

In preparation for these anticipated changes, we are actively working to improve the quality and completeness of our diversity data. This includes increasing self-disclosure levels to ensure greater representation and accuracy when the regulations come into force.

While this report includes our ethnicity and disability pay gap data, the primary focus remains on gender pay gap reporting, which is currently mandated under the Equality Act (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017.

3. Ethnicity pay gap reporting

The ethnicity pay gap is the difference in the average pay and bonuses between employees from different ethnic backgrounds across an organisation.

We acknowledge these figures are based on limited ethnicity data, hence our focus on increasing self-disclosure levels. 22.4% of relevant employees across Torus Group have stated 'Prefer not to say' or not provided their data (Not Known/Not Specified).

In addition to our statutory requirements to report on the pay gap for Torus Landlord, we also provide the pay gap position for the Torus Group. This allows us to assess the position across the whole of the Group and consider whether any proactive steps need to be taken at the Group level too.

6.4 Quartiles data

Below is the summary split of where males and females sit in terms of the quartile bands. They have been split into four equal bands to provide the quartiles A,B,C and D.

Band	Male	Female	Description
A	25.60%	74.40%	Includes all employees whose hourly rate places them in the lower quartile.
B	27.38%	72.62%	Includes all employees whose hourly rate places them in the lower middle quartile.
C	35.71%	64.29%	Includes all employees whose hourly rate places them in the upper middle quartile.
D	53.29%	46.71%	Includes all employees whose hourly rate places them in the upper quartile.

The above table shows there is a higher proportion of females in Bands A, B and C, whereas D has a higher percentage of males.

7. Understanding our figures

At 13.64%, the median gender pay gap is slightly higher than the national average of 13.1% (ONS (Office for National Statistics), 2024); and is a slight increase from last year's median figure of 13.27%. However, it should be noted that the mean gender pay gap has continued to reduce year on year, at 14.65% this year, compared to 15.66% last year which is positive. We recognise tackling the gap is a long-term goal and are continuing to take direct action to drive it down - please see Section 8 of this report.

7.1 Proportionality

As highlighted in Section 6.1 'People profile', Torus' workforce has a higher proportion of females. Despite a higher proportion, females are overrepresented in less senior roles at Torus. Our workforce gender split for full-pay relevant colleagues is 64.5% (433) females and 35.5% (238) males; however, females represent 74.4% of the lower quartile and 46.7% of the upper quartile of our pay bands. The percentage of females in the upper quartile has increased from last year though by 1.8%, while the percentage in the lower quartile decreased by 1.1%. This is positive and a move in the right direction towards reducing our gender pay gap.

46.7%

Females in the upper quartile pay band

53.3%

Males in the upper quartile pay band

7.2 Management

19.4%

of females were managers in 2024

18.8%

of females were managers in 2025

27.9%

of males were managers in 2024

of males were managers in 2025

Despite the lower numbers of males within Torus, they make up the higher proportion that have either been promoted or recruited to manager positions. This supports the existence of our gender pay gap.

8. Our Commitment to closing the pay gaps

The data in this report shows that whilst we have made some progress, we still have work to do. We are committed to eliminating gender, ethnicity and disability pay gaps and the details shown below highlight some of the actions we are taking to close those gaps.

Data Transparency and Accountability

Deliver our inclusion commitments and goals through data driven insights.

○ Increase colleague confidence in sharing sensitive personal data by clearly communicating why it matters and encouraging completion of employee records so we can report accurately and design meaningful, targeted interventions.

○ Build data literacy across the organisation by helping colleagues understand that collecting sensitive information is essential for identifying inequalities, shaping effective EDI initiatives, and driving long term cultural change.

○ Use diversity and inclusion data to proactively identify barriers to female progression, analysing trends, pinpointing challenges, and translating these insights into targeted actions that deliver measurable improvement.

○ Maintain full transparency through the continued publication of all pay gap reports, alongside clear annual updates on the progress we are making and the actions we are taking to close identified gaps.
